Lesson Planning

Complete Lesson Plan Book

Class: Class 4

Subject: English

Medium: English

Academic Year 2026-27

DM

This book is prepared as a teaching guide for teachers.

Table of Contents

Unit 1: Past Tense: Regular Verbs Ending in -ed

DM

Unit 1: Past Tense: Regular Verbs Ending in -ed

Learning Objectives

• Students will change regular present-tense verbs into the past tense by adding -ed.

• Students will use past-tense verbs correctly in short sentences about yesterday.

• Students will explain the spelling rules for verbs ending in -e and in consonant + y.

Key Concepts

• Regular verbs form the past tense by adding -ed, for example walk becomes walked and play becomes played.

• A verb ending in -e only adds -d, for example dance becomes danced.

• A verb ending in consonant + y changes y to i before -ed, for example cry becomes cried.

• Past-tense verbs tell us that an action already happened, often with time words like yesterday or last night.

Teaching Methodology (Step by Step)

1. Ask students what they did yesterday and write three of their answers on the board in the present tense.

2. Change those verbs to the past tense together and underline the -ed ending.

3. Teach the two spelling rules with one example each: dance to danced, cry to cried.

4. Students change ten verbs in pairs and read their answers aloud.

5. Students write three sentences about yesterday using past-tense verbs.

Classroom Activities

• Yesterday chain: each student adds one past-tense sentence to a class story.

• Verb sort: groups sort verb cards into -ed, -d and -ied groups.

• Fix the sentence: students correct present-tense verbs in a short paragraph about yesterday.

Assessment Questions

1. Write the past tense of jump, bake and try.

2. Correct this sentence: Yesterday I walk to school.

3. Write one sentence about last night using a past-tense verb.

Homework

• Write five sentences about what you did yesterday, using past-tense verbs.

• List the past tense of ten regular verbs from your textbook.

Time Allocation

40 minutes