Unit 1: Pronouns: Personal and Possessive

Learning Objectives

• Students will identify personal pronouns in a sentence and name the noun each one replaces.

• Students will choose the correct subject or object pronoun in a sentence.

• Students will distinguish between possessive adjectives and possessive pronouns with examples.

Key Concepts

• A pronoun is a word that takes the place of a noun, so we do not have to repeat the noun again and again.

• Personal pronouns name people or things: I, you, he, she, it, we and they are subject pronouns.

• Object pronouns are used after a verb or a preposition: me, you, him, her, it, us and them.

• Possessive adjectives come before a noun, like my book and their house, while possessive pronouns stand alone, like the book is mine and the house is theirs.

• Choosing the right pronoun depends on who is speaking, who is spoken to and who is spoken about.

Teaching Methodology (Step by Step)

1. Write a sentence with a repeated name on the board and ask how to make it shorter, then introduce pronouns.

2. List subject pronouns and object pronouns side by side and give one example of each.

3. Explain possessive adjectives with 'my book' and possessive pronouns with 'the book is mine'.

4. Give students sentences with blanks and let them fill in the correct pronoun.

5. End with a quick quiz: read a sentence aloud and ask the class to call out the pronoun in it.

Classroom Activities

• Pronoun hunt: students circle all the pronouns in a short paragraph and say which noun each one replaces.

• Swap game: replace nouns in sentences with the correct personal pronoun, then check with a partner.

• Possessive sort: cards with my, mine, your, yours, his, her, their and theirs are sorted into adjective and pronoun groups.

Assessment Questions

1. Replace 'Ali' with the correct pronoun: 'Ali is my friend. ___ is kind.'

2. Which is correct: 'This book is my' or 'This book is mine'? Give the reason.

3. Write one sentence using a possessive pronoun.

Homework

• Write five sentences about your family using a different personal pronoun in each one.

• Write three pairs of sentences showing a possessive adjective and a possessive pronoun.
